

Let's Read Together campaign reimagine reading as a social activity by providing a platform for children age 11-13, to always have a companion they can share the experience of reading with.

The aim is to make reading a pleasurable activity and help children pick up a good habit of reading.

The children will have to download the app.

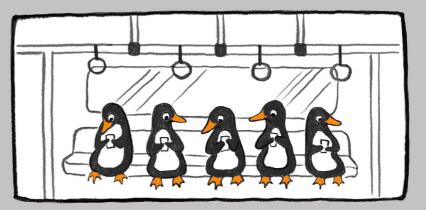

Once they sign up, they can either create a group or join an existing group.

Next, they draw a name to be their recipient.

On a selected date, the children will pass the book they have selected from the library to their friend.

Even though they have to return the books in the end, what will be kept as a gift is the book inscription card.

Back when penguins thought the internet is their best friend.

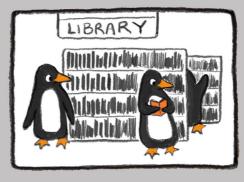

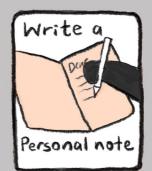

With the arrival of Let's Read Together movement, the recruited penguins begin their secret mission.

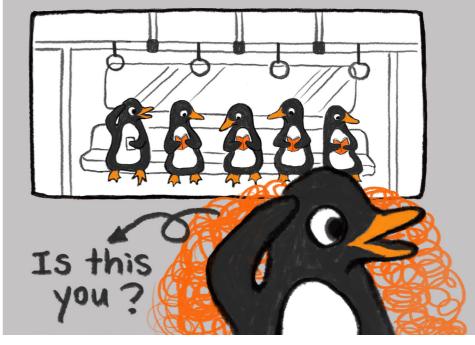

If you
don't know
what you
don't know,
how do you find out about what you
don't know?

The penguins realised the internet is not their best friend, but just one of their friend.

Ma chère Michelle,

I first read this book in French, about be years ago as part of a close on women writers and their presence in French literature. This is a good translation and if hope you will enjoy it. I consider it to be one of the most meaning ful books of my life as if search for my own path (ma voise) and my own path (ma voise) in this world.
